ASK ALLIES TO PROTECT BIG CITIES

France Asked to Undertake to Bring About an Arrangement to Care for Inhabitants.

(By Associated Press Cable)

Amsterdam, October 15. — The German government has proposed to France that in common with her allies France undertake to refrain from bombarding the large towns of northern France and enter into an agreement with Germany to permit, at any rate a portion of the population of Valenciennes to pass into the French lines, says an official statement from Berlin.

The Berlin government in making this proposal represents itself as unable to prevent the eastward flight of the population of Valenciennes owing to their fear that the allies would bombard the town.

The proposal was made through the Swiss government.

600 BODIES ARE RECOVERED IN BURNED AREA

Northeastern Minnesota Devastated by Forest Fires.

Badly Burned, Half Starved Settlers Wandering in Dazed Condition.

(By Associated Press Dispatch.)

Duluth, Minn., October 15. — More than 600 bodies of people burned to death in the forest fire which swept over northeastern Minnesota Saturday had been recovered today and it was expected this number would be increased by 300 and possibly by 400 when the entire devastated district has been gone over.

During the night those detailed to clear the road and rebuild bridges covered miles of territory which has been untouched by rescue workers and searching parties and sent to relief stations many truck loads of badly burned, half starved settlers who had escaped death by the fire and who were found wandering about in a dazed condition.

LATER REPORTS ON LOAN SALES ENCOURAGING

(By Associated Press Dispatch.)

Cleveland, O., October 15. — More encouraging reports of the Fourth Liberty bond sales are being received by the Fourth Federal Reserve Loan Committee, but the loan is not going ahead as fast as it must. The influenza epidemic and the slow start recorded subscriptions in some sections threatening success.

The unofficial estimated district subscriptions today were reported at $124,714,000 of the $600,000,000 quota.

WILL NOT FAIL

From cities and rural communities north, south, east and west came telegrams this afternoon saying both Liberty Loan workers and citizens who have not yet subscribed took new interest in the campaign after reading the President's note, eliminating possibilities of immediate armistice.

With only five days of the campaign left about three billion remained to be raised. All reports indicated renewed assurance that the nation would not fail in its task.

SHIP BUILDERS MUST SPEED UP

(By Associated Press Dispatch.)

Washington, October 15. — American ship builders were called upon by Secretary Daniels today to speed up their output of destroyers to meet the menace of the new and greater submarine effort which Germany is known to be planning.

BIG GUNS OF THE ALLIES ARE NOW DOMINATING RAILROADS FROM LILLE TO THE BELGIAN COAST. SERIOUSLY INTERFERING WITH, IF THEY HAVE NOT CUT OFF, GERMAN TRANSPORTATION IN THAT SECTOR.

GERMAN RESISTANCE IN FLANDERS IS WEAK BELIEVED FOR PURPOSE OF CHECKING ALLIES WHILE EVACUATION OF BELGIUM PROGRESSES

Between The Argonne and the Meuse the Americans Having Battled Their Way Through Wire Entanglements and Stiff Resistance Are Striking at Vital Sections.

(By The War Editor of The Associated Press)

In Flanders and from the Oise to the Meuse the allied troops continue their vigorous blows for important gains. As the French press on in the Laon-Aisne region the allied offensive in Belgium and the American operations west of the Meuse are being renewed today with success.

Smashing their way through the network of railways in western Flanders the Belgian, French and British forces under King Albert are now within two miles of the important railway center of Courtrai. The allies also dominate with their guns the railroad running from Lille to the Belgian coast by way of Courtrai and thus hamper, if they have not cut off all communications between Ostend and Lille.

ENEMY IS QUITTING OSTEND

The German resistance in Flanders appears to be only for the purpose of delaying the allies until the evacuation of Belgium can be completed.

The enemy is reported evacuating Ostend and to be sending large boat loads of troops away from the coastal region.

Between the Oise and the Argonne the French are pressing the enemy hard and giving him little chance to dig in should he desire to do so.

East of the Oise the French are within a half mile of the Serre, along most of its length and have advanced between five and six miles from Laon. Even the Aisne is fast being lost to the enemy as a means of defense. The French now threaten Reims.

FRENCH AND AMERICANS

Keeping step with the American operations east of the Argonne the French are moving forward west of the forest. West of Grandpre, General Gouraud has moved north of the Aisne and taken the towns of Olizy and Termes, straightening out a bulge in the allied lines.

AMERICANS THROUGH ENTANGLEMENTS

Between the Argonne and the Meuse the Americans have battled forward today through the German wire entanglements. Tanks have been brought up especially in the region west of Romagne. As on Monday the Germans are resisting stubbornly but satisfactory progress is being made.

There appears to be every reason to believe that the Germans along the flanks of the line from Solesmes to the vicinity of Reims will succeed in delaying the allied advance long enough to permit the withdrawal from the Laon salient. All reports of the fighting in this area agree that the German losses in material and munitions are very heavy.

AMERICANS IN VITAL SECTOR

The success of the Americans east of the Argonne forest seems to bring the Germans there face to face with the necessity of either greatly strengthening the forces holding the line or retiring northward. This sector is so important to the future developments of German defensive measures that it may be expected the enemy will strive by all means to hold back the Americans.

EPIDEMIC IS SPREADING THRU OHIO

(By Associated Press Dispatch.)

Columbus, O., October 15. — Approximately 5,000 new cases of influenza in various sections of Ohio were reported up to noon today. To date, approximately 65,000 cases have been reported.

today the disease has now been reported from every county in the state and from practically every town and city in the state. It also was stated that theaters, schools, and all indoor gatherings in the state had been stopped and that everything possible was being done to stop the epidemic.

It was made plain that outdoor gatherings have not been prohibited.

WILSON'S MESSAGE STIMULATES LOAN

(By Associated Press Dispatch.)

Washington, October 15. — Liberty Loan subscriptions have been stimulated by President Wilson's reply to the German peace note, according to a report to the Treasury today from loan committees throughout the country.

'T WAS HINDENBURG WHO ACCEPTED WILSON TERMS

Leaven Is Working in Germany and Momentous Happenings May Come Sooner Than Many Expect.

(By Associated Press Dispatch.)

Washington, October 15. — It was Field Marshal Von Hindenburg himself, and not the supposedly pacifist premier Prince Maximilian, who caused the German government to accept President Wilson's peace terms and seek an armistice, according to advices which reached Washington today through official sources by way of a neutral country.

Even before President Wilson's decision had been announced rumors were coming of the probable retirement of Prince Maximilian called to the Chancellorship to make the peace offer, and these were followed by reports that Scheidemann might take his place.

Such a development would be regarded as important only as an index to the leaven working in Germany.

It was made clear again today that President Wilson's opinion is that it matters little who is the German chancellor so long as the chancellor and the government are answerable to the Kaiser.

The leaven is working, though, and the note of the President is expected to stir it deeply.

Some observers here think the Germans will make any sacrifice rather than go through another winter of war at or within their borders and that the next move in Berlin may come more quickly than is generally expected.

Military officials here, however, are almost unitedly of the opinion that Germany has not yet been brought to the point where she will accept the President's decision of yesterday, and seek an armistice on the terms asked.

26 DEATHS AT SHERMAN

(By Associated Press Dispatch.)

Camp Sherman, October 15. — The total number of deaths at the cantonment from Spanish influenza reached 264 at noon today, there being 26 deaths from yesterday noon until today noon.

MESSAGE AT ONCE

(By Associated Press Dispatch.)

Washington, October 15. — President Wilson's reply to Germany ending talk of an armistice until the Germans are ready to surrender and finally closing the door to peace negotiations with Kaiserism was on the cables today, if it actually has not arrived at Berne.

Only a few hours should be required for its delivery at Berlin through the Swiss foreign office.

FRENCH ARE JUBILANT OVER REPLY

(By Associated Press Cable)

Paris, October 15. — President Wilson's reply to Germany was given to the public in extra editions of the afternoon papers published at noon today.

It immediately became the absorbing topic of discussion. The tone of the sentiment was distinctly favorable to the reply, the prevailing note being one of jubilation.

BIG TRANSPORT SUNK AT PIER ALL ARE SAVED

(By Associated Press Dispatch.)

Hoboken, N. J., October 15. — The American transport America sank at her pier here at 5:00 o'clock this morning.

All the troops were reported to have been taken off safely. The cause of the sinking was unknown but it was said the ship was undergoing interior repairs that may have had in some way to do with the entrance of water into the hold.

The transport was recently the big Hamburg-American Line passenger ship Amerika. She registers 22,622 gross tons. She was taken over here when the United States entered the war. The vessel was 659 feet long and was built in 1905.

The sinking occurred while most of the troops were still in their berths. In their hurried escape from the ship to the pier most of them had no time to don their clothes.

The Red Cross was called on for assistance and soon trunks filled with blankets, food and clothing also arrived at the pier for distribution among the shivering soldiers.

NONE LOST

(By Associated Press Dispatch.)

Washington, October 15. — An official report to the Navy Department says a muster of the persons known to have been on the Amerika shows none missing. There was no indication of the cause of the sinking. Steps are under way for raising the ship.

TORPEDO BOATS OF THE GERMANS PUT OUT TO SEA

(By Associated Press Cable)

London, October 15. — Several of Germany's largest torpedo boats recently left Zeebrugge, one of the naval bases on the Belgian coast, during a stormy night, according to a Dutch frontier message forwarded from Amsterdam on Monday to the Central News Agency.

INFLUENZA STILL ON THE DECLINE

While the influenza epidemic in Washington and Fayette county is on the decline in most districts, the decline is very slow, while in some other communities which had escaped up to the present time, the disease is spreading, but not as rapidly as before precautionary measures were taken by closing all public meeting places.

In this city Saturday and Sunday were extremely busy days for the physicians, but some physicians report a slight cessation in demands on Monday.

All persons are requested to cause physicians as little delay as possible while they are visiting patients, because of the extraordinary demands upon their time by other patients. For instance locked doors prevent the physician from entering the premises at once, causing a delay of one to three minutes, during which time he could be calling on other patients in the same community.

There are still many cases of pneumonia, but it is believed the number is not as great as a few days ago, and a number of persons have so far recovered that they are about once more.

WORK OR FIGHT ORDER IN FORCE

Supt. Reams of the U. S. Employment Service calls attention to the general work or Fight Order, saying that it applies to the registrants of Sept. 12th, 1918—as well as to those previously registered, and that every able bodied man between the ages of 18 and 45 is affected by this order.

The notice implies that the order will be more rigidly enforced on account of the critical labor situation now existing, and in order that the working program of the Nation should keep in pace with the Army abroad. To keep them supplied he is expected to keep in constant touch with the Draft Board to report all who are not now employed in essential work that they may be inducted immediately into Service.

As a fair warning, Supt. Reams asks that every man that comes under this order report and offer his services in the labor program where there is a job for every man, skilled or unskilled, at good wages.

There never was a time when labor is needed, as now. The fighting Army must be supplied by the working Army.

Fayette County responds 100 per cent on all other calls, make it as good for labor, urges Supt. Reams.

BOYS RACING; PAY FOR THEIR SPORT

A charge of racing, or reckless driving, was placed against two young men of the Bloomingburg community, Sunday, and one of the young men, Fred Butcher, was fined $5 and the costs.

The other youth by the name of Willhite was to appear later for a similar dose at the hands of Mayor Dahl.

The practice of racing on the streets of the city, either by automobile or by other vehicle, will not be permitted, declares Mayor Dahl.

$25 AND COSTS WAS DISORDERLY

In Mayor Dahl's court, Raymond Johnson Monday afternoon was fined $25 and the costs on a charge of drunk and disorderly conduct, preferred against him. The man barely escaped a double charge of resisting an officer, having given the police some trouble when they placed him under arrest.

UNUSUAL METHODS ARE USED TO AROUSE OUR LOCAL CITIZENS

Modernized "Paul Revere" Methods Adopted by The Cleveland Liberty Loan Authorities to Call Attention to Crisis in Liberty Loan Campaign

Washington C. H., Bloomingburg and Jeffersonville citizens were aroused from their slumbers late Monday night by the repeated firing of guns, bombs, the howling of horns and shouts coming from a government motor truck laden with sailors which drove through the streets scattering Liberty Loan advertising matter declaring that unless America awoke that the Fourth Liberty Loan would not be fully subscribed and the war would be still further prolonged.

It was sometime before the nature of the demonstration could be learned, and many persons have not yet learned the true nature of the noisy visits.

As explained by the Cleveland Liberty Loan workers, all prominent Cleveland business men accompanying the party, the truck load of sailors and soldiers is one of 36 sent out by the government at the request of the Fourth Reserve District workers to visit 77 Ohio county seats in two nights, entering a town unannounced and without the knowledge of even the local committeemen. Such was the case in this city, where, if the extent of the demonstration had been known by the local committee and the committee consulted, it is announced, it would not have been encouraged on account of the great amount of sickness and number of deaths. The demonstration resulted in widespread expression of opposition to the method of arousing the public to the seriousness of the Liberty Loan situation and the need of everyone's help to insure the loan being a success. Relatives, and friends of those critically ill were outspoken in criticizing the methods employed. The ringing of the court house bell added to the general confusion. The ringing of the fire bell was prevented by Mayor Dahl, who remained firm in his stand that the result would be very injurious to the sick.

Falling to draw forth a crowd in this city as they had expected, the committee then proceeded to Bloomingburg and Jeffersonville, where their efforts to attract a crowd were even more futile.

The workers from Cleveland declare that only the urgent need of arousing everyone to a realization that they must come to the front immediately and buy Liberty Loan Bonds prompted the unceremonious visit to this and other Ohio cities.

MATTHEW HANNA DIES OF APOPLEXY

Mr. Matthew Hanna, retired farmer of Madison Mills, was stricken with apoplexy Tuesday morning at eight o'clock, while sitting in the Tolen E. Brown store at Madison Mills, death ensuing immediately. He had entered the store apparently in his usual health five minutes before the stroke.

Mr. Hanna was one of the substantial and highly esteemed men of his locality and his death will be learned with widespread regret. He and his family formerly lived near this city, but for the past twenty-two years have resided in Madison Mills, near where were their farming interests.

Mr. Hanna was one of the Civil war veterans and was in Sherman's march to the sea and engaged in a number of the big battles. His loyalty to the flag expressed itself in every possible way in the life rounded out as an excellent citizen, a good friend and devoted husband and father.

Mr. Hanna is survived by his widow, two daughters, Ruth (Mrs. Maurice Hopkins) and Helen, and one brother, the only living relative, who resided at the home. They have the deep sympathy of many friends in their great loss and the accompanying shock of its suddenness.

Miss Helen Hopkins, who attends Miami university, was fortunately at home, the school having closed for an indefinite time.

"Unconditional Surrender"

The reply of President Wilson to Germany's answer "accepting" all of the propositions laid down as the basis for peace was prompt and decisive. It leaves no room for doubt as to the position of this nation regarding Germany's peace proposals.

While once more the President has avoided the use of the two words "unconditional surrender" yet, so far as the present rulers of Germany are concerned, he could not have made more emphatic the intention of the United States and the European co-belligerents to have no dealings with those who have done these horrible murders if he had blazened those two words across the sky in letters of fire reaching from the horizon to the zenith.

At the same time the door is left open for the German people to secure peace at any time they honestly come seeking peace.

Whether the German people secure peace now is entirely up to the German people themselves.

The brazen effrontery of the war lords is once more emphasized. They stand exposed to the people they have led astray and are seeking to betray in the effort to retain their power.

There can be no peace with the Kaiser, his princes and his war lords. It is reiterated in such a way that even the German people can see the utter impotence of those who have so long ruled them with the iron hand.

American Engineers

The American engineers are one of the great forces contributing to the amazing successes which have marked the tremendous campaigns of this year.

Those engineers, accustomed to doing big things in a big way, those men with that powerful initiative which knows no such thing as an insurmountable obstacle, those men whose calculations and assembling of necessary energies eliminate entirely that element, so dangerous to armies—time—are entitled to great credit.

The American engineers have revolutionized the whole railroad and wagon road systems, they have brought the monster carriers of America—locomotives, cars, automobiles and all—to France. As Germany's railroads have gone to pieces those of the allies have improved under the direction of our American engineers.

Their labors, tremendous and thorough, are the explanation of the never halting advance by the allies.

The ability of the allies to bring up their heavy field pieces, supplies and reinforcements is the one primary reason for that ceaseless advance which has resulted in the all but complete destruction of the Hun hordes.

While we are passing out our deserved compliments let us not forget those quiet, unostentatious, but tremendously powerful American engineers.

Keep Them Going

The principles and rules governing scientific contests in the prize ring have not changed in the big essentials, the rules which nature implanted in the brain of primitive man in the days when he was compelled to rely upon the weapons with which nature had supplied him for the purpose of protecting himself.

Primitive men in their encounters knew that the time to fight most earnestly and strike hardest was when his opponent showed signs of weakening. His attacks became more powerful as the result of his blows began to wear down his opponent until finally every ounce of strength was put behind the final blows.

As man developed intellectually he fashioned crude weapons out of stone and wood and, later on, metal.

Later day developments brought the prize ring with gloves for individuals and the rifles, small arms and big cannon for nations.

But through it all the great essential principle implanted in primitive man by nature has remained the same. No man, and no nation, since the first man participated in the first fight, on down to the present when armies of millions are locked in the most gigantic war of all times, ever gained victory by slowing up as his opponent weakened.

Fights are won by the last powerful blow on some vulnerable point.

Our commanders and our soldiers know that essential principle. They are fighting ahead, harder than ever, and winning every foot of the way. We, here at home, must do the same thing. As Germany is going down and out for the final count we must put the strength in that good right arm of ours which, reaching across the sea has been punching the murderous Hun until the monster is groggy, is now about to land the knockout blow.

POEM FOR TODAY

RETROSPECT

Another day sent songless down the surge
 Of untongued days—hid formless in the heart,
 Lost in poor stoic sufferance! Thus to fall
 Of ultimate song—to watch the light die down
 Of fires within—to hold one to a task
 The blind to beauty might as well achieve!
 Life's lyric purpose—can it be to drown
 'Neath wave of Things the spirit's lovely word
 And break the beauty of her fashioning?

Yet is this not the soul's one questioning?
 A great throng goes with music at the heart.
 Wearing the cross of silence—sold to days
 Of loveless labor and unvisioned nights!

White singing God, heard in a million souls
 That shut thee out and blunder down the dark,
 Fearful to serve the jealous inner flame
 Lest outer fullness fail—forgive the shame
 And send us back to singing!
 Though the track
 Lead through blind toil, still give the eagle's sight
 To penetrate back where the Song lies deep—
 To win from dark a finer light, from noise
 A stiller peace. Spirit of Song, lead home—
 Home to the long, low light, the old, far call!
 Wakeners of our dread music, break our bonds—
 Yea, Pilot of our singing, be not far!

A REAL PATRIOT DOESN'T HAVE TO BE COAXED

A man that has to be coaxed to protect himself is pretty slow in the skull from the ears up. Liberty Bonds are your protection. A man that has to be coaxed to better himself will never have much of this world's goods. Liberty Bonds are a good investment. Some men quit when they are winning—they are careless. Some men quit when they are losing—they are yellow. Because we are winning the war NOW is all the worse reason why we should fight the harder. Your part is to back the boys with the guns. Why are you hesitating to buy every Liberty Bond that you possibly can?

MEMOIR

Scott Judy, was born January 15, 1898 in Fayette county and departed this life at the City Hospital at Chillicothe, October 3, 1918, aged 20 years, 8 months and 15 days. He was the second oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Judy and leaves, father, mother and three brothers to mourn their loss, of a devoted son and brother. Hardly had his life begun when we find this young life has come to a close. Scott was of a happy congenial nature. He has made friends everywhere he would go and made the best of life as it came to him, always ready to do the best he could for every one.

His father and mother moved two years ago to Chillicothe and since that time he has made his home with his aunt, Mrs. Ira Walker, where he will be missed as one of the family. Just two weeks ago he went to his home at Chillicothe not feeling well and Thursday the sad word came back to his relatives in this city that Scott Judy had passed away with that dread disease, pneumonia. Here we are reminded of the old poem: There is a reaper who's name is Death.

And with His cycle keen,
 He reaps the bearded grain at a breath

And the flowers that grow between.
 He attended Sunday School and church services at the First Presbyterian church when it was possible for him to do so.

He had been employed at the Sauer's Bakery for the past year, but gave up when this sickness came thinking in a few days to resume his place. He was subject to his country's call but he has enlisted just over the river, waiting for his loved ones to join him. He will be greatly missed by a host of relatives and friends.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank the friends for the many floral offerings in both this city and Chillicothe and to thank Rev. Gage for his comforting words.

CHILD WELFARE

(Communicated)

It is a great disappointment to many mothers that the Child Health Conference of the Dairy Show in Columbus had to be called off on account of the epidemic. Since the government took into its hands the problem of the American child on April 6th, it has spent thousands of dollars in holding Welfare Campaigns and Health Conferences in the larger cities of America, in the hope that the smaller towns and rural districts might take advantage of them in every way. The agricultural districts of America are the most backward in caring for their children and the most advanced in caring for their cattle. For this reason the Child Health Conference was made a part of the big Dairy Show at Columbus. The government knew that the men of Ohio would attend the Dairy Show in order to help them bring up the standard of their stock. It hoped that the men might bring their children; get interested in their welfare and thereby bring up their standard.

One man attended the Dairy Show and found that a certain full blooded calf was not getting the proper diet so, according to instruction, he made out a formula, nailed it above the calf's stall so that the hired men could not possibly make a mistake in the calf's diet. Then he went into his house, put his two year old baby up by his side and filled her plate with a sample of everything that was on the table, beginning with greasy fried ham and ending with bananas. Had he spent five minutes at the Child Welfare headquarters he would have read in flaming letters on a placard that no child of two years should ever share the family diet; they should have a diet of their own, just as is necessary for his calf in the barn. This man is known as a very intelligent man. His home is in Fayette County.

Don't Wait Another Minute
Do It Now!

What if the workmen in the shipyards should lay down their hammers now and say there is no need to hasten the work? What if the coal miners, or the makers of steel and munitions should say there is no need of haste? What if General Foch should stop just when the enemy is giving way? The result would be disaster. But not a wheel can turn, not a plate can be riveted, not a shot can be fired without the sale of bonds. Victory or defeat is the issue. The workmen and the soldiers slack not their hands in striking for victory. If victory is not achieved the responsibility will not be theirs. It will be upon those who fail to buy in the manner that the others work, or fight.

MASS MEETING IS CALLED TO PUSH
THE LOAN SALES

Total Sales of the Fourth Liberty Loan Bonds in Fayette County Exceed $650,000 and Amount Is Growing Rapidly as Citizens Realize Need of Their Aid.

Following the arrival in this city late Monday night of a number of prominent business men and Liberty Loan workers from Cleveland, who asked to aid in the campaign work in this city and county, a meeting was called Tuesday morning, for three o'clock Tuesday afternoon, to be held on the court house lawn, and at the appointed hour a good sized crowd assembled to hear the brief speeches presenting the serious turn taken by the Liberty Loan campaign which the speakers declared required immediate and liberal response on the part of the people in order to insure its success and the continued meeting of war expenses.

The committee was in charge of Cloyde Miller, and he was accompanied by Messrs. J. E. Diamond, R. B. Washburn, F. H. King, Perry Weiler, M. S. Massler, G. B. Hoyt and a Mr. Hamilton, all of whom have established reputations in the selling of bonds in Cleveland and are successful business and professional men enrolled in Liberty Loan work.

The Washington band furnished the music for the meeting, and the speakers were introduced by members of the Fayette County Liberty Loan Committee, which co-operated fully with the Cleveland workers in the selling with his company.

of thousands of dollars' worth of bonds.

It was announced Tuesday morning by Chairman Daugherty of the War Work Council that bond sales to date were well over $650,000 and growing rapidly as citizens in all walks of life realized the necessity of their aid in the buying of bonds, and he believes that Fayette county citizens will respond nobly from now on, insuring the complete success of the loan insofar as Fayette county is concerned.

The meeting under way this afternoon is expected to have splendid results.

$75,000 RAISED
IN 20 MINUTES

At the Liberty Loan meeting in front of the court house this afternoon $75,000 worth of bonds were sold in the first 20 minutes and sales were continuing rapidly.

SERVICES HELD FOR
MRS. ROY BAKER

Relatives and friends from both town and county in large number assembled in the Washington cemetery Tuesday morning for the burial of Mrs. Roy Baker.

A beautiful little service was conducted by Rev. Wm. Boynton Gage, pastor of the First Presbyterian church.

The minister spoke of the appropriateness of holding the service out of doors, for her who was in happy accord with nature, born in the country and loving God's handiwork. A woman of Christian living, a faithful member of the Staunton M. E. church, kind and neighborly, always helpful in the hour of death, they who came in such numbers to lay her away, sorrowed greatly.

There was such a comfort in the pastor's thought of her being laid to rest among blooming flower and falling leaves, bringing their message of immortality; the leaves falling not to the hopeless decay of death but the blooming of the coming spring. Flowers plucked mean not the death of the flower but their re-blooming.

There were floral remembrances in abundance.

Relatives here for the services were Mr. and Mrs. Frank English, Newark; Mr. and Mrs. Ray English, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Carter, Mrs. Frank Carter and Mr. John Worley of Dayton.

The pallbearers were Messdames Ida Graves, Nell Baker, Jane Williams, Fred Short, Jennie McDole, Miss Swartz.

We Must Furnish the Spade" — Billy Sunday

By REV. WILLIAM A. SUNDAY

Uncle Sam's Liberty war chest needs filling again!

We have the cash to fill it as many times as he lifts the lid.

There are only two horns to this dilemma—you are either a patriot or a traitor.

The men on the firing line and on the battle-ships have turned from business, home, mother, wife, children, and they stand ready to give their lives and shield with their bodies us who remain at home.

We are unworthy to be thus protected, if we do not do our utmost to sustain them.

We must be one in our determination to win this war. We are traitors to the cause for which they are giving their lives, if we do things here that make their efforts harder.

Life is not worth living unless there is something to live for. Life would not be worth living if that bunch of Heinies should win.

That is why they cannot win. That is why we cannot lose.

What a mountain of crime God has on his books against that horde of Hellish Huns. What grave is deep enough for this thousand-armed, thousand-footed, thousand-headed, thousand-horned, thousand-fanged pirate of the air, assassin of the seas, despoiler of the earth and ambassador of Hell!

The army and navy will dig the grave, but we must furnish the spade.

Our boys will soon hang crape on the door of the Potsdam Palace, and the bands will play Yankee-Doodle and Dixie along the Rhine.

Uncle Sam is the cactus in the Kaiser's pillow.

Our Boys have gone over to clean up on that fool bunch of Huns and it is up to us to supply them with whatever they need to finish the job. It takes money to keep the riveters riveting—the sawyers sawing—the machine guns spitting bullets and the grub wagon always on hand with the eats. There is nothing too good for our brave defenders.

Our vocabulary contains no words adequate to express our approval of the achievements of our government since we threw our hat in the ring. We are rich on top of the ground; we are rich under the ground and our rivers creep like silver serpents to the seas, bearing our products.

The children of England, France, Italy and Belgium are laughing once more because they are being fed from Uncle Sam's bakeshop. One carload of meat every two minutes, one hog out of every four, nine million pounds of meat a day—all going over to feed our boys. We are in this scrap to the last dollar, the last grain of wheat, the last day.

We will never stop until Germany dips her dirty blood-stained rag to the Stars and Stripes. It's a whale of a job we've tackled, but we can and must put it over.

But you must help.

Don't whine. Don't knock. You can't saw wood with a hammer. Don't turn the hose on the fire; add fuel.

MUST DROP AUTOCRACY

(American Press)

Washington, Oct. 15. — President

Wilson's answer to Germany's peace proposal, stated in a few words declares there can be no peace with kaiserism; that autocracy must go; that no armistice can even be thought of while Germany continues her atrocities on land and sea, and that one can not be considered unless it fully is dictated by the allied commanders in the field in such terms as absolutely provide safeguards and guarantees that Germany's part will not be a scrap of paper.

If the answer does not bring a capitulation which may be more than an unconditional surrender, allied diplomats and American officials believe it may cause a revolution in Germany. Beyond question it speaks for the entente allies as well as the United States.

Quite outside of the formal phrases of a diplomatic document was President Wilson's word to the world that he had no thought of stopping the fighting at this stage.

The official note which will convey the president's decision to the German government, and, more important, to the German people, was delivered by Secretary Lansing to the charge of the Swiss legation, who has been acting as the intermediary.

One outstanding point which does not appear in the president's note—a point on which the world has been asking questions, can now be answered. When the president declared that the wrong done to France when Germany took Alsace-Lorraine should be righted he meant that Alsace-Lorraine should be returned to France.

Those who contend the president's decision arranges the situation for something more than an unconditional surrender base it on the argument that he has now passed the stage where he might have accepted a surrender of the German military and naval forces and left the Hohenzollern autocracy on its throne. Mr. Wilson, according to this view, has now finally informed the German people that if they want peace they can only obtain it by getting rid of the kaiser and his system.

Paizer Must Go.

An armistice, it is true, might come first, and the details of the downfall of the German autocratic government might be arranged later. But this is what an armistice would entail: First, a stop of the atrocities on land and sea and the systematic destruction and devastation in the wake of the retreating German armies. Then, the disarmament of all the German forces and the deposit of their arms and munitions at points to be chosen by the allied military commanders. Then, the occupation by allied forces of certain German cities or strongholds of strategic importance. Probably also the occupation of all the submarine bases, a turning over of the German fleet. In short, it would entail a taking from Germany of everything with which she might break her word to an armistice. From that point the United States and the allies might proceed to dispose of what remained of kaiserism if the German people have not done it before, as President Wilson in his note plainly invites them to do.

While nowhere in the note does the president openly join with the entente statesmen in the demand that the "chief criminals" must be delivered up for trial, the president's confidants point out that he plainly subscribes to the doctrine that the guilt of bringing on the world war is personal.

It will be noted that the president completely rejects the German suggestion for a mixed commission to arrange an evacuation and reminds the militarists that they will accept the terms laid down by Marshal Foch and the associated commanders; that they will have no part in framing them. He makes it plain that he does not accept the new German government headed by Chancellor Maximilian as anything less autocratic anything less a creature of German militarism, than its predecessors, and warns the German people that unless they destroy it the allied armies will do so.

One of the most important points of his note is that in which he acknowledges the present German government's unqualified acceptance of his peace terms and then goes on to show that these terms provide specifically for the substitution of a government wholly responsible to the German people themselves for the present one dominated by the German militarists.

REPLIES TO GERMANY

Text of President Wilson's Answer to Peace Proposal.

President Wilson's note to Germany, announced by Secretary Lansing and submitted to the Swiss minister, says:

"Sir—In reply to the communication of the German government dated the 12th instant, which you handed me today, I have the honor to request you to transmit the following answer:

"The unqualified acceptance of the present German government and by a large majority of the German reichstag of the terms laid down by the president of the United States of America in his address to the congress of the United States on the 8th of January, 1918, and in his subsequent addresses justifies the president in making a frank and direct statement of his decision with regard to the communications of the German government of the 8th and 12th of October, 1918.

"It must be clearly understood that the process of evacuation and the conditions of an armistice are matters which must be left to the judgment and advice of the military advisers of the government of the United States and the allied governments, and the president feels it his duty to say that no arrangement can be accepted by the government of the United States which does not provide absolutely satisfactory safeguards and guarantees of the maintenance of the present military supremacy of the armies of the United States and of the allies in the field. He feels confident that he safely assume that this will also be the judgment and decision of the allied governments.

"The president feels that it is also his duty to add that neither the government of the United States nor, he is quite sure, the governments with which the government of the United States is associated as a belligerent, will consent to consider an armistice so long as the armed forces of Germany continue the illegal and inhuman practices which they still persist in.

"At the very time that the German government approaches the government of the United States with proposals of peace its submarines are engaged in sinking passenger ships and shelling their passengers and crews seeking to make their way to safety. And in their present enforced withdrawal from Flanders and France the German armies are pursuing a course of wanton destruction which has always been regarded as in direct violation of the rules and practices of civilized warfare. Cities and villages, if not destroyed, are being stripped of all they contain, not only, but often of their very inhabitants. The nations associated against Germany can not be expected to agree to a cessation of arms while acts of humanity, spoliation and desolation are being continued which they justly look upon with horror and with burning hearts.

"It is necessary, also, in order that there may be no possibility of misunderstanding, that the president should very solemnly call the attention of the government of Germany to the language and plain intent of one of the terms of peace which the government has now accepted. It is contained in the address of the president delivered at Mount Vernon on the Fourth of July last. It is as follows:

"The destruction of every arbitrary power anywhere that can separately, secretly and of its single choice, disturb the peace of the world; or if it can not be presently destroyed, at least its reduction to virtual impotency. The power which has hitherto controlled the German nation is of the sort here described. It is within the choice of the German nation to alter it.

"The president's words just quoted naturally constitute a condition precedent to peace, if peace is to come by the action of the German people themselves.

"The president feels bound to say that the whole process of peace will in his judgment depend upon the definiteness and the satisfactory character of the guarantees which can be given in this fundamental matter. It is indispensable that the governments associated against Germany should know beyond peradventure with whom they are dealing.

"The president will make a separate reply to the royal and imperial government of Austria-Hungary."
